SUMMER/FALL 2008

New and Better Than Ever

Better than ever would best describe the results of the recent expansion and renovation of the Creston G. Tate and Betty Jane Tate Foundation Chesapeake Hospice House.

“The Hospice of the Chesapeake staff are proud to say that both the Tate House, as well as the Mandrin House, are now prepared to provide care to patients that require high acuity interventions at the end of life,” said Nurse Sherrill A. Ross-Wieneke, Vice President of Clinical Operations.

“This benefits not only the patient but the family by allowing them to be at the bedside with their loved one while the hospice staff provides the more complicated care.”

Located in Linthicum in North Anne Arundel County, the Creston G. Tate and Betty Jane Tate Foundation Chesapeake Hospice House was the first hospice residence constructed in Maryland. Opened in late 1996, it was originally constructed as a six-bedroom home for patients needing end-of-life care. As time went on, the need for additional patient rooms became apparent, as well as a need for an innovative renovation that would better enable caregivers to assist with patient care and better accommodate family needs.

And renovate we did. Currently the Creston G. Tate and Betty Jane Tate Foundation Chesapeake Hospice House is a 5,000-square-foot home that features eight private patient rooms. This ideal size allows for clinical staffing at low operational costs while still providing ample space to deliver high quality hospice care and comfort for families.

As the house grew, so did the surroundings. During recent years, backyard landscaping incorporated a labyrinth for reflection, a fish pond and a much needed patio area.

Mandrin House Mariposa Garden Takes Flight

In a recent flight of fancy, the John & Arloine Mandrin Chesapeake Hospice House in Harwood recently broke ground on its Mariposa Garden.

The Mandrin Mariposa Garden has been designed to provide a respite for caregivers, a place of solitude and reflection for patients and a source of life-affirming connection to nature for volunteers and staff. The garden will become a part of the clinical care, bereavement services and counseling support that Hospice of the Chesapeake provides patients and their families.

“After serving more than 40 years in military intelligence, my wife Kyuhee and I decided to try and find ways to give back to our community,” said Rod Isler.

“When Jeff McKnight asked if I would consider joining the Board of Directors, the timing could not have been better -- we found a way to give back. Working on the philanthropy committee has been another way to help as well as my wife's participation with the new garden at the Mandrin House. It has been an honor for us to serve and we plan to continue supporting Hospice of the Chesapeake in any way we can.”

Focal points of the garden will include a large water feature and walking areas adorned with personalized bricks engraved with names in honor of or in memory of loved ones.

While the Mandrin House provides a warm, caring atmosphere, there is a time when a patient, too weak to get beyond the walls of the house, still needs to have a change of scenery. The addition of the garden at the Mandrin House will provide that change, along with a serene and reflective space to provide comfort for families and caregivers alike. Beyond the clinical needs of our patients and their loved ones, the garden fills a more spiritual need -- the need to step into a different space -- a place of relaxation and meditation.

from the helm

As a former hospice volunteer, I was well aware of the total professionalism and dedication that the program brings to a family in a time of crisis. However, your folks surpassed even my own personal experience and expectations. I have remarked time and time again that all of the personnel assigned to my dad's case were truly a Godsend and enabled him to end his life here on earth in a most dignified manner.

—Robert A. McGraw, son of the late Thomas C. McGraw Sr.

We believe it is every individual's right to die with peace, dignity and compassion and when we receive letters like the one above, I am reminded what a difference Hospice of the Chesapeake makes in the lives of our patients and their families. I am so proud of the staff and volunteers who bring our mission of compassionate care to life each and every day.

Throughout the first two quarters of 2008, Hospice of the Chesapeake has been making a difference throughout the community as well. In the first months of the year, we reopened the Creston G. Tate & Betty Jane Tate Foundation Chesapeake Hospice House in Linthicum, a haven for patients who require complex or concentrated care. We are indebted to the generosity of Jim and Linda Humphrey, the Creston G. Tate and Betty Jane Tate Foundation, and many others for making this possible. We have also broken ground on the Mariposa Garden at the John and Arloine Mandrin Chesapeake Hospice House in Harwood. The garden is made possible by the generosity of The Herrmann-Freeman Foundation, Chuck and Pam Schuette, Rod and Kyuhee Isler, Becky Greco, Don Riddle of Homestead Gardens, the Hospice of the Chesapeake Auxiliary, and many others. When completed this summer, it will be a lovely sanctuary for our patients and their families.

In addition, Chesapeake Treasures, Hospice of the Chesapeake's 10-year-old resale shop has moved to a larger location in the Park Plaza Shopping Center in Severna Park. You will see that a lot more has changed than just the location. The former resale shop is now accepting consignments by appointment that can include upscale furniture and art as well as clothing, accessories, jewelry, crafts, household, decorative and seasonal items. The first few months have been a huge success, so be sure to stop in and shop for some great deals for a worthy cause. We depend on the efforts of Chesapeake Treasures, and others who contribute, to maintain our commitments to the community.

These are just three of our many achievements of late. As we begin the second half of 2008, our focus will continue to be on serving more patients who need quality end-of-life care, and to raising the much needed funding to ensure we can continue to provide peace, dignity and compassion to all those facing life's final journey. Thank you for your continued support of our mission.

Sincerely,

Erwin E. Abrams

A True Chesapeake Treasure

The story of Chesapeake Treasures, Hospice of the Chesapeake's resale outlet, is the story of the little store that could – and ultimately did.

At the beginning of April the 'little' store climbed yet another mountain, arriving victoriously at the south end of the Park Plaza Shopping Center in Severna Park, both stronger and more poised for store success. The six founding volunteers could hardly have foreseen the changes made over the past decade – from a small thrift shop to a large successful consignment resale store.

The origins of the shop began back in the mid-1990s when Catherine Smith first thought about a fund raising project for an established cancer support group she was involved with through the American Cancer Society known as CaRes.

'Next to New,' the small thrift shop which began as that Cakes fundraiser, was located along Jumper's Hole Road in Pasadena. A growing number of other area support groups and the dissolution of CaRes and the subsequent dwindling financial backing made it necessary to obtain outside help.

Bob Law, already a volunteer with Hospice of the Chesapeake and also one of the original project members through CaRes, thought that an alignment with Hospice of the Chesapeake could prove beneficial for both entities. He approached President and CEO Erwin Abrams with the idea in February of 1997. In short order, the Hospice of the Chesapeake Foundation Board agreed to the idea. What followed was the birth of Chesapeake Treasures, volunteers, inventory, equipment and all!

By May, a new site had been secured within the Park Plaza Shopping Center on Ritchie Highway and the former 'Next to New' volunteers had relocated the business. Who could have imagined that only 10 short years later Chesapeake Treasures would again evolve into something yet even bigger and better.

Many of those landscaping improvements were completed in part thanks to Volunteer Bob Butz, who received the 2008 Chairman's Award for his efforts with the house and garden, and who continues to transplant shrubs and flowers today.

"The Serenity Garden and Labyrinth are evolving with each season," said Cindy Butz, fellow volunteer and recipient of the 2008 Chairman's Award. "We had beautiful Lenten Roses in bloom in early spring, followed by daffodils. Many of the staff and patient's families are enjoying the variety of birds now showing up at the feeders and filling the (bird)houses."

Think Pink!

Seven exceptional women from the Hospice of the Chesapeake staff, led by Gina Kopack, Administrative Assistant to the Vice President of Clinical Operations, have plugged into their inner girl power and have committed to walking 60 miles this October, all in the name of finding a cure for breast cancer!

The event is the Susan G. Komen 3-Day Walk for the Cure when for three days the team will experience a route filled with sweat, inspiration and hope, not to mention thousands of other determined walkers – all walking for the same cause.

"The staff at Hospice of the Chesapeake was moved to participate in this three-day walk because unfortunately breast cancer has touched the lives of many of our staff members and their loved ones, as well as our patients and their families," said Erwin Abrams, President and CEO."

The three-day event presents a unique opportunity for Hospice of the Chesapeake to reach out and honor those who have experienced breast cancer in some way – helping to celebrate life, survival and the hope for one day finding a cure for breast cancer.

Currently the team is hard at work fund raising to reach their registration goals and is looking for others to join them in their quest to become a critical part of something truly larger than themselves. The funds raised benefit Susan G. Komen for the Cure and the National Philanthropic Trust

For more information about Hospice of the Chesapeake's participation in the Breast Cancer 3-Day, contact Gina Kopack at 443.837.1508 or GKOPACK@hospicechesapeake.org

Letters of Caring

“The whole experience gave me a lot of knowledge to bring to the future shop and hospice,” said Dee Blomquist, manager of Chesapeake Treasures for the past 10 years.

Following a successful decade but facing level sales and a maturing site in need of substantial upgrades, Hospice of the Chesapeake’s volunteers and staff members looked for cost effective alternatives and exciting ways to boost sales. Fortunately the current property manager had another location within the same center available — double the size and for comparable rent.

During the course of just a few short weeks, the shop relocated in its entirety up the sidewalk to its new home. This quick move was made possible with the assistance of many volunteers, Hospice of the Chesapeake staff, local volunteer craftsmen and the youthful strength of the local Severn School Boy’s Varsity lacrosse team who physically moved the contents of the store into the new location.

“Hospice is just near and dear to my heart,” said Mrs. Richardson. “I believe in the whole philosophy of hospice.”

As for working with an all-volunteer staff she said, “These are devoted, really caring people who give generously of their time and talents. No question about that.”

And although it’s only been a short time since the relocation, the new improved Chesapeake Treasures’ daily revenues have increased substantially, primarily a result of shifting the focus from exclusively donated goods to a consignment concept. Today the ‘stock’ also consists of furniture and other larger pieces of merchandise which were unable to be accommodated in the previous, smaller location.

“I’m very enthusiastic about the changes. To date we’ve raised approximately $350,000 towards general patient use,” said Bob Law, treasurer of the Chesapeake Treasures Board of Directors. “I consider it ‘found money’ because all of the stock was donated. The money was earned from things people could no longer use.”

“As they say, ‘One person’s trash is another person’s treasure.’”

The store is located at 562-B Ritchie Highway in the Park Plaza Shopping Center in Severna Park. Store hours are from 10:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Saturday and until 7 p.m. on Thursdays. For additional information, please call 410.384.9260.

With this accomplished, a new staff member was added to the Hospice of the Chesapeake employee roster — retail sales manager Donna Richardson, and the concept of consignment was adopted.

Mrs. Richardson comes to Chesapeake Treasures with exceptional experience, especially in the retail scene, where she worked as manager of a Hallmark store in Riva, Md., and in the Annapolis Mall. She had also been a hospice patient care volunteer in both Connecticut and Pennsylvania for 10 years before relocating to the area.

I want to thank the Hospice team for the wonderful care that they provided for my mother, Catherine Jackson, during the month of February. Each person was so willing to share his knowledge and was very patient and kind to my mother. It was a pleasure to work with them and I am extremely grateful for all that they did.

Hospice is a wonderful organization. The teamwork is unbelievable and the communication is great. Everyone seemed to work together to make it all happen.

Mother passed away Feb. 12, 2008. Through your care, Mother's final days were made as comfortable and enjoyable as possible.

—Gail Miller, daughter of Catherine Jackson

In a family's journey through life they encounter joy, despair, love, acceptance and inevitably grief. It is an almost unbearable event when you watch a wife, mother, mother-in-law, grandmother or great-grandmother suffer the pain and humility of a life-changing disease such as cancer.

It is with the grace of God, and the people who serve him through medical and spiritual vocation, that provide the strength for all who watch their beloved family member succumb to these changes and eventually depart from this mortal life.

This letter is written in appreciation to those who serve him and made not only the family of Edna Spilman, but all those who succumb to this disease. Thank you and God bless you.

—The Spilman family

McDonalds Supports Summer Youth Programs

Every July and August the sun rises in a very special and unique way for youth coping with grief and loss thanks in part to Ronald McDonald, those famous arches and Phoenix Rising and Camp Nabi.

Hospice of the Chesapeake devotes two weekends each summer to provide young people a safe haven to explore ways to channel their grief and loss. The two camps are held at Arlington Echo Outdoor Education Center in Millersville. Phoenix Rising, held in July, is geared towards teens, and Camp Nabi, held in August, is for younger children.

Both programs are designed to let campers know that the feelings they're experiencing regarding their personal loss are normal and that they aren't alone in their grief. The young people also learn that healing is a journey and a period of growth. Through various reflective activities, the youth experience emotions, face challenges and transform their own confusion and sadness into accomplishments and personal triumphs. All of this coincides in the midst of making new friends and having fun with their peers.

Camp Nabi participants and volunteers enjoy an experience with sound together.

"Thanks to you, your staff and the volunteers for the experience my sons, James Jr. and Jonathan, had at Camp Phoenix Rising," said Karen Burks of Upper Marlboro. "It is hard to believe that just a week ago they truly wanted no part of the camp, counseling or bereavement services of any kind. However, after the pre-camp meeting, they were a little less negative about participating. When I picked them up from the camp on Sunday, they had nothing but wonderful things to say about the weekend experience. Both said they had a great time and were glad they went. I hope you realize how MAJOR this is – these two young men were adamant that they did not want any parts of this service. Whatever you are doing to get through to this age group is working and I thank you."

Hospice of the Chesapeake is fortunate to be sponsored by Anne Arundel County, organizations and businesses in the community, as well as individual donors, allowing these young people the necessary time to heal in a safe and comforting environment. One such organization is the Ronald McDonald House Charities, RMHC, who will support Phoenix Rising and Camp Nabi with a grant this summer that will help defray the costs.

"Mr. Houck, owner and operator of the Mooreland and Chartland Corporations and our RMHC contact, made an initial site visit in 2003 when Hospice of the Chesapeake was first introduced to the funding opportunities at the Ronald McDonald House Charities," said Karen Frank, program director. "He has been very supportive of our mission and commitment to serve the bereaved children and teens in our community."

"In general, hospice is the most worthy organization I've encountered in many years," said Bob Houck. "I'm one hundred percent in your camp."

While RMHC has granted funds to Hospice of the Chesapeake in years past for both Phoenix Rising and Camp Nabi, this year's gift is the largest to date. The much needed financial support will allow counselors the necessary resources to provide excellent bereavement support to the children and teens entrusted in our care.

cocktail area to the silvery glitter of the ballroom to the ladies dressed in evening wear and their gentlemen escorts attired in white dinner jackets.

The 12th Annual Beacon of Hope Gala raised substantial revenue through corporate sponsorships, a small but mighty silent auction and a host of gambling tables.

Rounding out the entertainment for the evening were flamenco dancers and a live band and spacious dance floor.

The DeStefano family, the 2008 Beacon of Hope Gala honorees, were honored for their longtime commitment to Hospice of the Chesapeake — from the construction of the first Chesapeake Hospice House in Anne Arundel

County to their many hours of volunteering and generous financial support over the years. There was also a special tribute to the family matriarch, the late Nancy DeStefano, hospice volunteer and supporter who was in the care of Hospice of the Chesapeake earlier this year.

The magical evening was made possible through generous corporate and community support. Reliable Contracting led the way as the gala's presenting sponsor with Jay Baldwin at the helm as this year's honorary chairman. The evening was successful due to the perseverance of event chairperson and foundation board member Georgie Clark along with her extensive team of dedicated and talented committee members.

MISSION statement & commitment

Hospice of the Chesapeake improves the quality of life for those in our communities experiencing advanced illness or bereavement through hospice, palliative care, compassionate support and education.

Our commitment is to provide high-quality, cost-effective care regardless of age, race, creed, gender, religion, sexual orientation, diagnosis or ability to pay, with a goal of improving quality of life through comprehensive palliative care and supportive services.

The public may contact the Joint Commission's Office of Quality Monitoring to report any concerns or register complaints about a Joint Commission-accredited health care organization by either calling 1/800-994-6610 or emailing complaint@jcaho.org

The Creston G. Tate & Betty Jane Tate Foundation Chesapeake Hospice House gets wrapped in warmth as Clinical Manager Margie Lay accepts eight lap-sized quilts from Lois Coons of Millersville and Dianne Bowers of Severn. The quilts were created by the Friendship Quilters of Linthicum as part of the group's February Love Project.

If we have omitted or misspelled a name, please accept our apologies. Please contact Wanda Hardison in the Philanthropy Department at 443.837.1528 or whardison@hospicechesapeake.org so we can correct the mistake.

Thank you.
