There's good news for good looks at 9th annual Fashion for a Cause

(PASADENA, MD, April 17, 2017) — There's good news for fashion coming down the highway.

Adam Tuss, transportation reporter and Sunday anchor for NBC News4 Washington, will be the celebrity master of ceremonies when Porsche of Annapolis hosts the 9th annual Fashion for a Cause from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. June 8 in its showroom at 20 Hudson St.

This high energy evening benefits Hospice of the Chesapeake's Chesapeake Kids program which supports children living with illness, dealing with the illness of a family member, or grieving the loss of a loved one. The event is generously sponsored by The Wilburn Company, Annapolis Orthodontics and M&T Bank.

The dazzling runway show will feature the newest designer trends and collections for the 2017 summer season. Joining professional models in helping to show off summer's hottest looks will be community celebrities, including Kevin Catron, Jason Cherry, Holly Frye Atcherson, Paula McLoud, Polly Mizani and Laura Toskov.

There also will be signature cocktails and delicious savory and sweet bites provided by food partners Azure -- Westin Annapolis, Carpaccio Tuscan Kitchen and Two Rivers Fish and Steak House.

Tickets are $90 per person if purchased by May 26. After that, the price goes up to $115. People signing on as a Designer Sponsor or above will receive admission to the pre-event VIP Sponsor Reception, as well as at least two reserved seats for the show and a listing in the printed program.
