

“My husband Jerry’s experience with Hospice of the Chesapeake’s care taught me that the ultimate goal of hospice care is to have a good life right up to the very end. He loved his whole care team, but especially his nurse. He appreciated that she obviously cared deeply about what a good life meant to him at each stage of his illness.

It was like our whole family was her patient, not just Jerry. She laughed with us. She cried with us. We never felt alone. She helped us get through those challenging times together.”

your hometown hospice

DONATE NOW

Did you know that we look for deep human empathy in those we recruit as part of our commitment to bringing the best nurses and the best care to the bedside? Supporting their education and training matters. That’s why we recently launched a Clinical Ladders Program to incentivize and reward those who seek further higher education and certification. Some of our highly accredited clinical team members are not just caring for patients and families, they are also mentoring the next generation of hospice nurses.

May is National Nurses Month. Won’t you please make a generous gift to honor the skilled and compassionate work our nursing team is doing every day in your community?

Michael J. Brady
Chief Executive Officer